The following communication from Chief of Police Donovan was presented, and read:

Hoboken, May 19, 1902.

To the Honorable the Board of Police Commissioners:

Gentlemen—At the request of the President of your Board, His Honor the Mayor) and in communication with my presence in reference to barmaids, employed in saloons in this city, which was submitted to your Honorable Board on different occasions, I wish to say that the police has and is making prompt efforts to suppress this so-called barmaid evil.

By the passing of the ordinance, which prohibits the employment of females in saloons, and the several arrests made, with the convictions that followed, thereof, had a wholesome effect. We have succeeded in making former barmaids resorts realize that the police will insist upon the strict observance of the said ordinance.

For some time past officers have been detailed to see that this ordinance is enforced, as well as to keep a strict surveillance upon saloons who formerly employed these barmaids, from their reports to me and from my own personal observations, I find that we are successful in its enforcement.

The officers in their reports say that in some saloons they find women sitting at tables in company with men, but in no case acting in the capacity of a barmaid, according to the sense of the ordinance.

The officers are under strict orders to arrest any woman that they find in these saloons, violating the said ordinance, as well as the owner of the saloon.

These reports are on file in my office, and can be laid before your Honorable Board at any time, you ask for them.

Respectfully submitted,

CHAS. A. DONOVAN,

Chief of Police.

The following communication from Mary Condon, widow of Officer John Condon, was presented, read and received and referred to the Corporation Attorney for his opinion.

To the Hon. Board of Police Commissioners of the City of Hoboken:

Gentlemen—I hereby make application as widow of Officer John J. Condon, who died on the fifteenth instant. My husband was a member of the police force eleven years. About eight years ago, while in discharge of his duty, he fell in an excavation in Hudson street, and from which he received an injury to his leg, which confined him to his home for a long time.

About one year ago while arresting two colored men on suspicion of being thieves he injured the same leg and was confined to his home three or four weeks. His leg never healed from that time and he never recovered entirely.

On February 26 last while in discharge of his duty, in trying the door of the Hammond Beef Company, on Newark street, he slipped on the ice and injured his leg again. From this injury he never recovered, although he performed his duty at certain times, and was always under the doctor's care. At the time of the injury he was confined to the house for over forty days and never recovered from the effects of the injury to his leg.

Dr. Arlitz, City Physician, attended to him to the last two injuries and he can certify that it was from the injury received to his leg by his fall on February 26 last, which resulted in his death.

I therefore make application as his widow for a pension. I have five small children dependent upon me for support and I would ask your Honorable Body, that you grant me the pension which I ask.

Aug. 22, 1902.

Yours truly,

MARY CONDON.

Office Corporation Attorney,
Hoboken, N. J., Oct. 2, 1902.

Honorable Board of Police Commissioners:

Gentlemen—In reply to the request of your Honorable Body for my opinion as to the petition of Mrs. Mary Condon for a pension accruing to her by reason of the death of her husband, former Patrolman John J. Condon, I would state that I have examined the petition of the widow, and would advise that if, after an examination of the facts in her case, your Honorable Body find them to be as therein stated, you are authorized by laws 1889, page 522, to grant her a pension.

The law requires (1) that you satisfy yourselves that the officer died as the result of injuries received in the discharge of his duty; (2) that the widow and family are in need of a pension and possess no other means of livelihood, for if they do possess such means the pension should not be granted; (3) the amount granted as a pension is entirely within the judgment and discretion of your Honorable Body and should be limited to the requirements of relieving the actual necessities only of each applicant; (4) the pension, when granted, continues during the widowhood of the applicant, or in case of her death without remarrying, until the youngest child of the deceased officer shall have attained the age of eighteen years, and shall be included in the annual tax appropriation for salaries of the department. The law assumes in the interest of the taxpayers that before making any allowance for pensions, your Honorable Body will thoroughly investigate each case from a medical and evidential standpoint for the purpose of satisfying yourselves that the case is a proper one.

Yours truly,

JAMES F. MINTURN,
Corporation Attorney.

Mr. Redmond, prior to his death, was attended by Dr. Foley, Dr. Simon and Dr. Arlitz.

I have no income whatever, and as Mr. Redmond, at the time of his death, was eighteen years on the force and bore a clear record. I consider that I am entitled to a pension at the hands of your Honorable Body, and would thank you to give the matter your immediate consideration.

Dated October 24, 1902.

Yours respectfully,

ELLEN REDMOND.

The following report of the Committee on Investigation was presented, read and received:

To the Board of Police Commissioners of the City of Hoboken:

Gentlemen—Your Committee to whom was referred the case of the death of Officer John Condon, deceased, together with the petition of his widow for a pension, for investigation, would report as follows:

That they have investigated the matter by receiving the report of the Chief of Police and Captain Hayes, together with the report of Dr. W. J. Arlitz, Police Surgeon, from which it appears that Officer Condon, on the 26th day of February, 1902, while on duty on Newark street with Officer Garrick, was injured by slipping and striking his leg against some stone steps. That he continued to complain of this injury regularly until July 31st., when he reported himself unable to continue doing duty. Dr. Arlitz was notified and examined him and attended him until the fifteenth day of August, when the said Officer Condon died. That the effect of this injury while the officer was on duty was that he often complained of pain in the injured leg, and was noticed by his brother officers to limp slightly while on duty. The Police Surgeon reports that when he visited Officer Condon he found him suffering with an infected wound of the leg, which was followed by phlebitis and later by meningitis. The Police Surgeon is unable to give the origin of the wound, but refers us to the police record. In pursuance to this report we have examined Officer Garrick, Captain Hayes and Police Surgeon Dr. Arlitz, and received from them their affidavits attesting the foregoing facts, which affidavits we hereby submit to you, together with their reports as part of our report for future reference.

We have also investigated the condition of the widow and petitioner in this matter, and we find that she is a deserving woman, the mother of five small children, the children of John Condon, deceased. The oldest of said children being years and the youngest a baby in arms.

We are of the opinion, judging by the circumstances of the widow and her family, that they are in need of a pension. That they have no means of support, and would recommend that your Honorable Body grant to her the sum of five hundred dollars per annum, in equal monthly payments.

Respectfully submitted,

M. DAAB, JR.

State of New Jersey, County of Hudson, ss:

Patrick Hayes, of full age, being duly sworn upon his oath, says that he is captain of police of the City of Hoboken. That he was acquainted with the late Officer John Condon since his appointment to the police department of the city. That the said officer was reported to this deponent on or about the twenty-sixth day of February, 1902, that while on duty he fell and injured his leg, and although complaining of pain and soreness he continued doing duty until the first day of March, when he reported sick and continued so until April 6, when he again reported for duty, and continued doing duty until July 31, when he again reported sick. That he did not report for duty again and died on the fifteenth day of August, 1902.

That this deponent often noticed the said officer to slightly limp on his injured leg while doing duty after the injury above complained of, which he attributed to said injury. That at the different times that he reported sick City Physician Arlitz attended him, and gave a certificate certifying as to the cause of illness.

Thomas Garrick, of full age, being duly sworn upon his oath, says that he is a patrolman of the police department of the City of Hoboken; and has been for the past eleven years; that he was well acquainted with the late Officer John Condon for a number of years. That on the 26th day of February, 1902, this deponent and said officer were patrolling their post on Newark street, west of Willow avenue, in the City of Hoboken, that their tour of duty was from 12 m. to 7 a.m. That at about 3:30 a. m., they commenced to try the store doors on Newark street, this deponent taking the north side of said street and Officer Condon taking the south side. The morning was very stormy; it was snowing and freezing. Officer Condon went to try the door of the Hoboken Beef Co., situated on the southeast corner of Ferry and Henderson street. There is a platform in front of the door which is reached from the street by going up four steps. There was no railing attached to these steps. When Condon got on the third step he slipped down and struck his shin against the second. He got up and went to the platform and tried the door and windows. He then went across Newark street where this deponent was standing and told this deponent that he thought he cut his shin, and they both went to the nearest electric light and made an examination as to his injuries, and found that his shin was cut and bruised and was bleeding freely. That this deponent advised the said officer to go to the station house and report his injury to the sergeant, but the said officer refused and continued on his tour of duty. That since the time the said officer received his injuries as above deponent often noticed him limping while on duty, and that said officer often complained to this deponent that his leg bothered and pained him.

Hoboken, N. J., Dec. 8, 1902.

To the Honorable the Board of Police Commissioners:

Gentlemen—In accordance with your resolution, passed at the stated session of your board on November 24, I assumed the duties of chief of police on December 1.

A rigorous investigation of the department has satisfied me that in the matter of system and discipline a great laxity prevails, which, with your assistance, can readily be corrected.

The form which I would suggest to your honorable body would be the immediate adoption of a manual, or book of rules, regulations and instructions.

The manual under which the department at present is being conducted is an antiquated book, full of obsolete matter, incomplete and inapplicable to the present condition of affairs.

I herewith submit to your honorable body a copy of a manual for your approval, which I have compiled. It is the result of quite some research, and is, I am satisfied, comprehensive of everything pertaining to the government of a well-appointed police department.

I would also recommend to your honorable body the institution of the drill. This has become, in my opinion, an absolute necessity. While the officers of my command are composed mainly of young and energetic men, they are sadly deficient in the military precision and deportment which are required of uniformed bodies. The armory could be procured for that purpose and a competent instructor furnished from the department.

I have in my possession a quantity of unclaimed property in the store room. It is composed principally of goods of very little value, and should be disposed of as you may direct.

Respectfully submitted,

Patrick Hayes, Jr.,
Chief of Police.
